FALSE CEILING INSTALLATION

False Ceiling Installation Guide

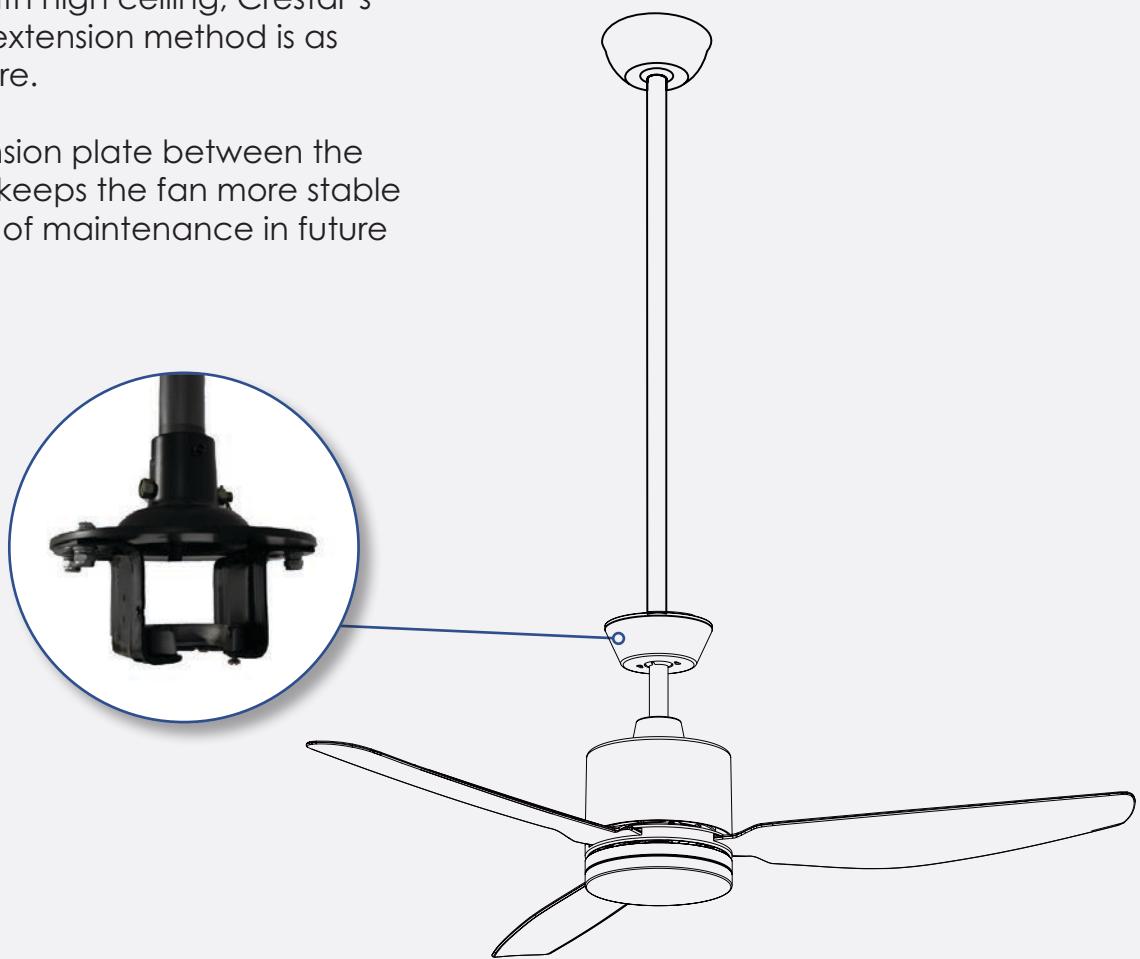

The illustration above is just for reference purposes, kindly ensure you get professional help from our customer service centre.

Any damages or injuries as a result from improper installation will not be held responsible by Crestar. Make sure all false ceiling installation is carried out in accordance to our standards to prevent voiding your product warranty.

Extension Rod & Extension Plate - Models with downrod

For installation with high ceiling, Crestar's recommended extension method is as shown in this figure.

Adding an extension plate between the rod and the fan keeps the fan more stable and allows ease of maintenance in future as well.

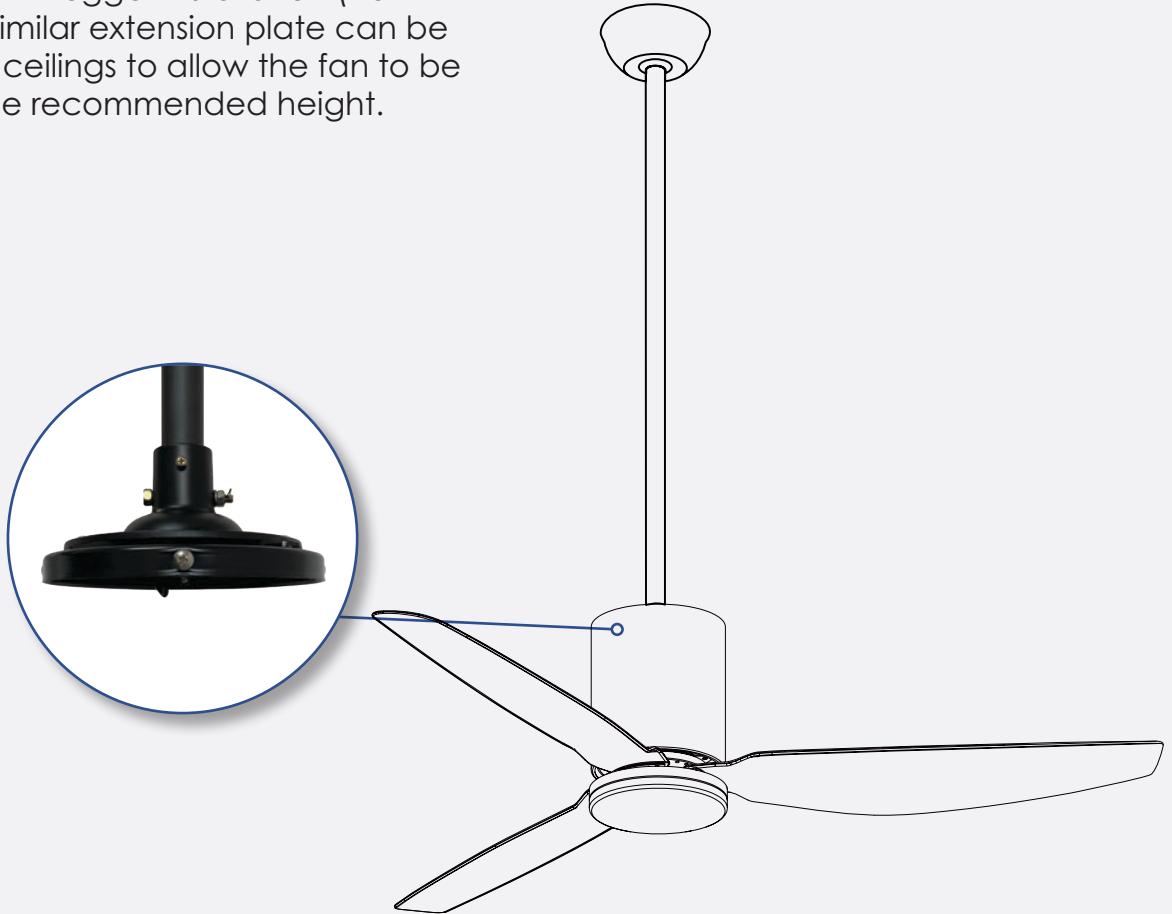

Ceiling Height	up to 3m	up to 3.4m	up to 3.6m	up to 4m	up to 4.5m	4.5m ≤
Downrod Length	4" - 8"	10" - 14"	15" - 18"	20" - 30"	40" - 60"	60" and above

→ additional extension plate + bracket needed →

EXTENSION ROD & PLATE

Extension Rod & Extension Plate - Models with hugger

For models with hugger installation (no downrod) a similar extension plate can be used for high ceilings to allow the fan to be installed at the recommended height.

For any installation of 4m and above, on-site recce is required for our installation team to give the best advise for the height of the fan as well as the installation method.

It is strongly advised that ceiling height of 4m and above to use extension plate & bracket, in the event that no extension plate is being use, scaldfolding must be provided by the owner.
